“ Growing up, Alice was one of the friendliest, sweetest, and most encouraging adults at the church in which I was raised, and was a key person who made me feel at home both in Sunday School and in church. She has continued to be very supportive and encouraging as I have grown up and become a young adult Christian.

Studies show that one major predictor of children raised in the church sticking with their faith as adults is having older Christians in addition to their parents investing in, supporting, and encouraging them, and Alice definitely fit that description very well. She is missed and I am looking forward to seeing her again someday. Praying for comfort and peace for her family!

“ I've know Alice since our days at UIC. I've always known her as kind, compassionate, and funny! I knew her when she was exploring her faith in God. I have admired how much her faith has grown, even in the midst of extremely trying times. She was truly a woman who loved God and had a strong faith even until the end. I look forward to seeing her in heaven one day with our heavenly Father where we will all be completely whole and healed!

“ God blessed me with the gift of Alice and I began to know a beautiful, godly woman inside and out. He used her willingly to speak words of love and inspiration to me; words that I initially could not believe about myself, they were so caring. Her kindness and transparency set me on a path of healing that continues today. I will treasure in my heart the gift of her presence. I cherish her ability to share the whole story, not just the pretty parts. May God bless you, Mike, Hannah, Jacob and Alice's family for the love and caring of our precious Alice, as you are all part of who she is that gave to generously to us all.
