“ Somewhere in the great political cosmos a star shines brighter tonight. That star is for Don Zwier who illuminaed understanding of our own government, and the world around us. For us, Don, you are eternal. I know I speak for your dear family when I say we will miss you tremendously.

“ Dear Zwier Family, Roderick and I, as members of the Political Book club, send our condolences to you upon the passing of your father. At several of our last gatherings he espoused the beauty of growing old - how it had liberated him from the emotional and intellectual anxieties of his past. He seemed to accept the end of life with the excitement of a young person yearning for the next great adventure. Our Huckleberry friend's presence will be greatly missed. Sincerely, Karen and Roderick Gibbs
