“ I met Doris and Lee through your grandfather (Algot) in the home building business. Even though it was business we became friends. We had alot of good times (my wife Gloria and me) and we are so sorry to hear of her passing. May God bless her,even though she's gone she will always be remembered in our hearts. “ I remember how much my father loved Doris. He often talked about how beautiful she was. As a child and now as an adult, because of living far away, I didn't have opportunities to spend lots of time with her. Even so, I treasure memories of her beautiful smile, her sense of humor, her kindness, and her hospitality. I know she will be dearly missed by her family and friends. May all who loved her find comfort and peace in precious memories and the boundless love of the Heavenly Father.

Thank you very much, Myrna. She also shared many memories of your folks and, though more limited, memories of all the family together.

“ Doris was one of the very first members of the Business Networking Group and the kindest, sweetest woman promoting her vast knowledge on travelling the world. I had experienced several of those expertly planned vacations.

Our friendship expanded to teaching her the game of Mah Jong and regular fun afternoons through the years with our group of 4 other BNG ladies preceded by lunch at Bakers Square. Her warm smile, positive attitude, words of wisdom as she helped to mentor me through forks in the road. Both she and Lee participated in a couples evening, I visited them when they moved to their assisted living residence and know how proud they were of their amazing family (and of course granddaughters' Northwestern University classes as a young child). Lost touch from there but at 72 know how hard it is to lose parents and hope she had not suffered....my thoughts and prayers are with her family.
