“ Dad was a great role model and provider. His competitive and loving spirit was handed down to his children then his grandchildren. He also had great taste in women marrying Mom and raising six children over their 60 year marriage. He doled out Love and dicipline freely and fairly. Back in the day he had uncanny sporting ability, a great golfer with multiple holes in one and a low handicap. He could make a freethrow 95% from anywhere. He was a high handicap bowler, and told us he was good at tennis (not verified). A Pittsburgh Steeler and Pirate fan to the end. He also liked to play poker on occasion. He was the life of the party, he bought plenty a drink in his lifetime. He was an incredibly talented salesman and sales manager respected by his customers, employers, and direct reports, he traveled the US for DuPont and the world for Ametek. He took us all over the country camping and enjoyed the RV lifestyle with mom well into retirement. He loved God and was a devout and generous Catholic. He passed peacefully with Mother and daughter Carol at his side at home. His call. His time. He will be missed. Love you Pop! He always called me Jim Jeff John. I'm going to miss that.

“ So sorry for your loss. I remember Mr. Napoleoni as a great family man and friend. The Napoleoni's were my first friends when we moved into Libertyville. I have sweet memories of that time and Mr. Napoleoni.
