“ My deepest sympathy to the Burrows family. Jim was such a good man. He loved life! I always admired how he traveled the country and was never afraid to try anything. You are in my thoughts and prayers.

“ My brother Jim always had the wonderlust, even at an early age, he would slip out of the house in the middle of the night and show up on our neighbors' doorsteps, just to say "hi!" One summer, Jim, Bill and his friend Tommy. O'brien decided they were going to build a raft and sail from Lake Forest beach to Milwaukee, Wi. They put so many nails in this raft, that it promptly sank once in the water. their journey lasted about 10 seconds.
