“ Art was so much more than just the father of my nephew, he was also a genuine friend. Even though it has been many years since I've seen him I will never forget some of the good times we shared together, like the time we took a ride on my motorcycle: it was a beautiful warm day and we rode about 30 miles west to another friend of mine's and when we got there we ended up staying longer than anticipated, well during that time the temperature had dropped dramatically and we both froze our aes off for the whole 30 miles back; it must have taken us a couple of days to get back to our normal body temperature. You will forever be loved Jamie "Art"...

“ Art was always one of the kindest souls ever. He used to vacation with our family when his son was little. He was loved by all.
