“ I remember the first time I met Mrs Martucci. I walked into her house after her daughter Diana and I spent the day at St. Isaac Jogues elementary school. The first thing I noticed was her hair - it was beautiful! It wasn't the style that caught my eye but the silver streak running through a beautiful head of dark hair! I was fascinated! I later learned it was referred to as a mallen streak or white forelock. I have loved the look ever since. At that time most women dyed over their silver streak so it was rare to see. Today, it's become quite popular and even people who don't come by it naturally are dying it in for dramatic effect. I guess Mrs. Martucci was ahead of her time!

We are so sorry for your loss. Rest in peace Lena Martucci; you've created a beautiful and loving family. Sending prayers for comfort and peace.

Love,

Dede (Sayadian) Frank and family
