“ I miss you mom ”

“ I want to thank everyone that came to my mother's service, sent messages to check in on her and our family, those who prayed for her, and sharing your memories of the great person she was. My mother taught us how to laugh, cry, and how to pull it together. Having so many remember her and honor her was so healing for our family. It has now lifted the weight to forget the disease and remember the person she was, both beautiful inside and out. Alzheimer's is so common, so when you see someone acting out of the ordinary, have empathy, because many are going through struggles that we all know nothing about. And for my parents, we all thought they would live forever, but forgetting that one day they would/will go up to the gates. Every rainbow reminds me of where she is, and I wish the same for all of you when facing a passing of a loved one. And for my Dad, as Gladys Knight put it so well of how my parents felt in their last moments of their 59 years of marriage..."Neither one of us wanted to be the first to say goodbye....farewell, my love...goodbye."

Thank you all again for being a part of my mom's life and journey. May you all be blessed with good health and if that is not the case, may that health ailment be cured or not last long.

God Bless,

Jenn - From (my parents' reminders of me), the wild child of Sib/Jerry “ Sib did so much for my mom and my family, we will never forget her kindness and tenacity. The amount of appreciation I have for her cannot be expressed. Sib helped guide my mom through work, citizenship, family struggles, her health...the list is endless. I know my mom will cherish Sib's friendship forever. And I know our lives were made better because her. Love to Jerry and Jennifer for your friendship and support as well. Peace to Michelle and the entire family.

“ Sib was such a joy to be around. She always had a smile for me when I entered her office and often pointed out a lighter side of whatever was troubling me. I saw her very little after she retired, but when I did see her, she still had the aura of joy about her that I always associated with her. May she rest in mirth and peace.

Anita had the pleasure of working and knowing Sib in the late 70s and 80s before we moved away. We enjoyed getting together with her and Jerry. She will be missed by all as she was always such a positive person who exuded joy and happiness. May she rest in peace and we hope her family is consoled knowing her struggles are over and she is in heaven with her savior.
