“ I loved my Aunt Sue as a Nurse myself - I respected the hard work and dedication it takes to be one. I know-Noni, Lois my grandmother was so very proud of Sue and her accomplishments. As a Hospice Nurse Sue brought the care and comfort that Michelle,Robert and family eventually had to give to Sue. Very much the pay it forward model. Sue used to tell me of the terminally ill patients and their families. She was known for attending all her patients funerals to give comfort to the grieving family and friends it is we who are now those grieving family and friends. I am sad for us - Not for Sue. She is in a much better place and is not limited by the body that was failing her in the last couple of decades. I love to remember Sue when she was healthy and slightly mischievous. One of my earliest scares of my life came at Sue's hands. It was shortly before Christmas and my grandparents were hosting Thanksgiving. There were the standard warnings of if you are not good, then Santa will not bring you any gifts But Sue took it to the next level. She rigged up a paper bag with a face of an elf on it and had a sign that said- Be Good or ELSE Scared the living daylight out of me at the tender age of 6. Looking back it was funny that I was so afraid of a paper bag but it was the way Sue sold that allusion that terrified you. When I was about 9-10 Sue was my champion as I lost 5 dollars on the Sand Dunes in Shelbyville MI-this was just as the sun had set so it was VERY dark but Sue said she was very lucky at finding money and went back to the Dunes with me and sure enough we found it. Whether she put the money out there on the dunes for me to find or really found my 5 $ I will never know but I will always be thankful to Sue that she was willing to hunt with me to find it. I hope that Sue finds the Happiness, Health and Joy on the Dunes of The Life Beyond- You know she is really lucky with things like that!!!

“ Sue was a lovely person, so much fun to be with. Her neighbors on Rocking Horse Lane loved her and admired her strength as she coped with illness over the years. John, we are all thinking of you and sending you our thoughts and prayers. Love, Feather
